Constitutional Convention at St. Albans. The 15th annual meeting of the Constitutional convention of Vermont, was held at the annual meeting of the Vermont Domestic Missionary society, was held at the Congregational church at St. Albans last week. Mayor Atwood presided in welcome in behalf of the city and W. H. Crowder for the church and society. W. J. Van Patten of Burlington presided.

The annual report of the corresponding secretary, John M. Comstock, was the first thing taken up. The report shows a total of 213 churches in the state, the same number as last year, with four dormant—those at Leicester, East Poultney, Ripton and Albany. Thirty-three pulpits may be considered vacant, although supplied by students during the summer. The others are regularly supplied with pastors.

The total membership of the churches is 22,055, a decrease of 29 since last year, although the additions exceeded the removals by 13. The discrepancy is due, it is thought, to more accurate count in some churches. Seventy-one churches showed no addition, but fifteen took in ten or more by confession. Among the latter number was the Barre church, which took in 23 by confession. Total Sunday school membership was 19,172, an increase of 222 over last year. The total benevolent contributions for the year were $61,618, a gain of $10,551 over last year. Church property is now valued at $19,970,965, which is $113,900 larger than the year before.

The following labor resolutions were unanimously adopted on Wednesday. "Whereas, the church is repeatedly made that the Church is indifferent to the needs of the workingmen, and that the latter are becoming estranged from the Church because of the alleged lack of sympathy; and

"Whereas, Congregationalism has always been actively allied with all wise movements for social amelioration, and by reason of the democracy of its spirit and organization is especially adapted to adjust itself to meet the needs of the workingman; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That this convention affirms its sympathy with efforts of the working class for emancipation from poverty, ignorance, and selfishness, and with that ideal of co-operation whereby all men may become the useful servants of society. Further, be it

"Resolved, That this convention recommends that pastors and churches make a special study of the social teachings of Jesus with a view of seeking to apply them to modern industrial problems; that they strive to come into closer touch and cooperation with the humanitarian efforts being put forth by labor organizations."

Rev. W. C. Clark of Lyndon reported for the committee on polity. It was suggested that the name of the state organization be changed to the Vermont Congregational Conference and that advisory committees be appointed by county conferences, and the report was adopted. A resolution was passed directing that the legislature be asked to change the name of the organization as suggested.

During the convention there was a good deal of discussion of the liquor law which resulted in the adoption of the following resolutions:

"Whereas, the investigation made by our committee on civic justice indicates that it is an open question with our people whether progress in banishment of the saloon is to be best obtained through the unit of the town or by state legislation;

"Whereas, a referendum would afford opportunity for a useful agitation of the subject; and

"Whereas, the licensed saloon is an evil which cannot be permanently tolerated in a Christian community;

"Resolved, That the Congregational convention of Vermont hereby requests all political parties at their next state conventions to insert in their platform a plank favorable to a referendum."

"Resolved, That our secretary be instructed to bring this action to the attention of the state committees of the different political parties in Vermont."

Officers were elected as follows: President, Rev. Rufus C. Flagg, of Newport; vice president, M. H. Buckham, of Burlington; secretary, Rev. W. C. Clark, of Lyndon; corresponding secretary, John M. Comstock, of Chelsea; treasurer, David M. Camp, of Newport; auditors, John C. Clark, of St. Johnsbury, and C. F. Ranney, of Newport; trustees, Rev. Henry Fairbanks, of St. Johnsbury, C. W. Osgood, of Bellows Falls, W. J. Van Patten, of Burlington, Alexander Gordon, of Barre, Rev. H. H. Ball, of Fair Haven; delegate to the Vermont Methodist Conference, Rev. L. A. Wilson, Hardwick; delegate to the Baptist state convention, Rev. W. J. Ballou, of Ludlow; visitor to Andover Theological Seminary, Rev. N. R. Nichols, of Sudbury; committee on polity, Rev. W. C. Clark, of Lyndon, Rev. Dr. C. H. Merrill, of Springfield; committee on morality, of St. Johnsbury, Rev. J. H. Morley, of Springfield; committee on printing, Rev. Dr. C. H. Merrill, of Lyndonville, Rev. E. G. French, of Lyndonville, Rev. D. H. Strong, of Williams-town; committee on inter-denominational comity for five years, F. W. Baldwin, of Newport, for four years, Rev. Fraser Metzger, of Randolph, for three years, Rev. H. R. Miles, of Brattleboro, for two years, Rev. Dr. C. H. Merrill, of St. Johnsbury, for one year, Rev. J. B. Sargent, of Northfield. Two names, those of F. H. Brooks, of St. Johnsbury, and Rev. C. C. Clark, of Morrisville, were proposed and accepted for members of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions.

The convention will meet in Randolph next year.

On Wednesday the nineteenth anniversary of the Vermont Domestic Missionary Society was observed. The Rev. Henry Fairbanks of St. Johnsbury presided. John T. Ritchie of St. Johnsbury presented the report of the treasurer, which showed total receipts of $19,093.55. The secretary, Rev. Dr. C. H. Merrill of St. Johnsbury, presented the report of the directors. He told of a steady forward movement and a small increase in revenue. Two churches, at Hardwick and at West Charleston, had become self-supporting. He said that inadequate salaries caused and intimidated that the society was ready to aid in the increase of salaries of pastors of needy churches. Officers were elected as follows: President, Rev. Henry Fairbanks of St. Johnsbury; vice-president, N. G. Williams of Bellows Falls; auditor, Charles S. Adams of St. Johnsbury; directors for three years, D. M. Camp of Newport, Rev. H. R. Miles of Brattleboro, H. F. Field of Rutland, Rev. C. H. Dickinson of Middlebury. A vacancy in the board of directors, the term expiring in 1910, was filled by the election of Hon. Mason S. Stone of Montpelier.

Boat House Burned at Newport.

The boat house of the Memphremagog Boat & Supply Co., C. R. Moore manager, was burned between midnight and 1 o'clock Friday morning. Eight gas launchers were destroyed. The owners of the boats burned were Mr. Moore, Joseph Bowles, George Gilchrist, Samuel Parker, Percy Lawson, Fred Robbins, Charles Shepard and S. Sherburne. The loss on the building and on Mr. Moore's boat is estimated at $1500; with no insurance. The loss on the other boats is estimated to be a few hundred dollars. The cause of the fire may have been an overheated motor, which ignited some gasoline, as an explosion was heard shortly before the fire was discovered.

John F. Nash, paymaster of the Boston & Maine, and Mrs. Flora J. Watson, daughter of E. M. Campbell, were quietly married last week Tuesday evening, June 9, by the Rev. Mr. Lyster. They are both well known and popular young people in this vicinity and a host of friends join in hearty congratulations. They are living for the present with Mr. Campbell's people, but will doubtless go to housekeeping in the fall.

The Lyman Howe Moving Picture Company, which appeared here last winter under the auspices of the Epworth League, gave a return engagement Thursday evening, with an entire change of program, and a large number of new and interesting pictures. They drew a crowded house as they have a well deserved reputation in this line.

The band concert last week was given on Thursday evening, and it is the intention to hold them on Thursday evenings hereafter.

Monument Dedicated.

Very interesting exercises took place Saturday at the unveiling and dedication of the Odd Fellows' monument in the Lyndon Center cemetery, by Union Lodge, No. 4, of Odd Fellows. Among visitors from out of town were Grand Secretary O. H. Henderson of St. Johnsbury, D. D. G. M. Dr. Shattuck of Wells River, who was accompanied by his wife, Past Grand Master Hunt of Barre, and his wife. There were also present Canton Crescent and several members of the subordinate lodge at St. Johnsbury. A banquet was served to the guests at noon by the members of Juniper Branch Lodge, Daughters of Rebekah. At one o'clock the parade formed to march to the cemetery, and it was one of the best and finest appearing parades ever seen in town. First in line came the Lyndonville Military Band, 25 men, E. J. Willey drum major; next, Canton Crescent of St. Johnsbury, 40 men in line, Ralph Parker captain; Union Rank, K. P., 24 men, Robert Watson captain; Union Lodge, No. 4, 78 men, Charles Bradshaw, Noble Grand, Ronald Bell, marshal. The parade proceeded to the Odd Fellows' lot at the Lyndon cemetery, where the unveiling and dedication ceremonies took place, participated in by the Grand officers. After these followed the regular memorial services for departed Odd Fellows. The exercises passed off very successfully and pleasantly. The committee of the day was Rev. L. W. MacLaughlin, chaplain; F. J. Willey, J. D. Lyon, R. A. Monroe, Richard Little. The monument is a handsome stone of three links, and contains the inscription "Union Lodge, No. 4, Instituted 1878, I. O. O. F." At present there are but three Odd Fellows buried in this lot, each grave bearing an appropriate marker. The placing of this monument and the successful carrying out of these ceremonies, with the fraternal spirit evinced, are an honor and pride to Union Lodge, I. O. O. F., and its officers and members.

Children's Day was observed at the Methodist church, Sunday, by a special sermon in the morning and a concert in the evening.

Grover Foster has been spending a week in Lowell and Boston.

J. Dewey Baldwin has been spending a week at St. L. Wells, after his year at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He returns to Boston soon and will work for the Bell Telephone Company the rest of the summer.

The Lyndonville baseball team defeated the nine from Island Pond on the grounds here Saturday, the score being 14 to 0.

John Murch has bought the jewelry repair business of H. L. Parker. He will remain in the same place, but run the business himself.

Mrs. Josephine Wilder has gone to Whitefield and Bethlehem to spend two weeks with her son and her sister.

Clarence Fowler of New York city has been spending his vacation with his parents here.

Mrs. Albert Brewer and two children from Greenville, S. C., are expected this week to spend the summer with her father, J. C. Eaton.

Commencement week at the Institute seems unusually quiet this year as there are no public graduating exercises, the class preferring to spend their time and money in a trip to Washington, on which they left Wednesday. On Sunday the baccalaureate sermon was preached by Rev. F. E. White, and on Monday the Alumni reunion and banquet was held in the Congregational church parlors, the ladies of the church serving the dinner. Tuesday the time was devoted to business meetings.

From the Wild and Woolly West.

J. A. Dexter, formerly of this place, who is now in Longmont, Colo., has many friends here who have heard him tell stories, and who will be interested in the following story about him which was printed in the Longmont Daily Call of June 5.

"J. A. Dexter and Dr. Douglas, to be in the fashion, went fishing for trout the other day. They are both truthful gentlemen, and so exaggeration is not expected. They each admit that they didn't get a bite. The strange part of the trip is that they encountered three large mountain lions, and a lioness and two whelps. They had a desperate struggle, in which they came out first best. Being out fishing, they had no fire arms, and therefore could not shoot the beasts. After fighting hand to hand for an hour, Dexter thought of his fishing rod, which he ran down the throat of the mother lion. They each then grabbed a whelp by the tail and started home with them. The story accounts for their clothes being so badly torn, though Charley Bradford, who lives west of Lyons, says they tore them crawling through the barbed wire fence."
